

AUTUMN RAIN

Light in the sky, colour of your hair
The dew on the trees, the breeze in the air
Clear as the water running down the stream
If we all wished big, things started to seem

CHORUS

Leaves changing, falling so gently
Black as the night, and into the unknown
Diamonds in your eyes, as blue as the sky
As clear at the Autumn rain

Love to last an eternity
To have you right here beside me
I give you my heart with this (one) red rose
Your heart and mine wrapped in one perfect bow
