

(THE) SUN AND THE MOON

As pure as the springtime flowers blossoming in truth
To the summits of mountains, the early morning fields of dew
Hills upon hills covered with grass so green
The birds in the air and the water in the stream

CHORUS

When we first met, your smile warmed my heart
The day I met you, I received a fresh start
How beautiful the rising sun, how mystical the moon
The love shared in nature that I now share with you

The sun and the moon, so high in the sky
I want to be with you, until the day that we die
Find comfort in my arms when you need to rest
This is when true friendship will stand the test
