

TIMBRE AND TEXTURE

Timbre refers to the quality of a musical note or sound or tone that distinguishes different types of sound production. Texture is defined as the overall sound of a piece of music. The elements of texture are the number of and relationship between the various parts or lines of music, the timbre of the instruments, the number of instruments used and the distance between the various musical lines.